

HOME OFFICE AGREEMENT

concluded between

PLAPPERMAUL OG, Moserstrasse 10, 4540 Pfarrkirchen near Bad Hall

(hereinafter referred to as "Company" or "Service Provider")

and

Mr Hristijan Stavrov, born on January 19, 1998, resident at Albert Schweitzer Allee 14, 4050 Traun

(hereinafter referred to as "Service Provider")

(collectively "the parties")

In addition to the service contract dated April 5th, 2023, the parties agree:

1) subject

- a. The present agreement regulates the regular performance of work between the employer and the employee, which is performed by the employee in an external workplace using information technology ("home office"), as well as the general conditions.

2) beginning

- a. This home office agreement begins on July 1, 2023 and will closed indefinitely.

3) External workplace

- a. The external workplace is located at Albert Schweitzer Allee 14, 4050 Traun
- b. The employee also agrees to further travel activities/business trips, both at home and abroad. The guidelines of the employer apply business trips.

4) Main place of business

- a. The previous place of business is considered to be the main place of business. Ways to and from the parent company expressly do not count as travel activities/business trips.

5) Allocation and scope of working hours

- a. The employee has the opportunity to carry out his previous work in the "home office" on 4 working days per month. The location of these days must be agreed with the supervisor/ employer by the fifteenth of the previous month at the latest (written transmission). The choice of the location of these days is subject to the following restrictions:
 - The situation before or after vacation days is not permitted

- The position before or after public holidays is not permitted
- The location must be chosen so that a maximum of one working week day is omitted

On the other days, the employee works in the previous business premises.

b. The normal weekly working time remains unchanged. The position of the normal working hours is based on the previous normal working hours. The employee must comply with the company's core working hours. The servant undertakes to be available during working hours. The following times are agreed as core working hours:

- Monday to Thursday 09:00 to 15:30
- Friday 09:00 to 11:30

c. Overtime and extra work will only be remunerated if they are expressly ordered. The consent to the home office alone is not consent to the performance of overtime and overtime work.

i.e. All working times are to be recorded independently, truthfully and completely by the employee on a daily basis and breaks are to be recorded.

The employee must submit the records at the end of each week.

6) work equipment and reimbursement of expenses

a. The employer provides the work equipment necessary for the performance of the work, in particular a laptop ("work equipment"). The employee has a fully functional and powerful internet connection for himself (Provider) to take care. The work equipment remains the property of the employer and is maintained by the employee and program updates are made. The following tools are provided:

- HP VICTUS 15.6" AMD Ryzen 5-5600H, serial number: B0B5F7Z4Z9

b. The employee also undertakes to use the work equipment provided by the employer carefully and appropriately. The work equipment must be stored in such a way that it cannot be damaged or stolen by third parties.

c. In the event of a fault in the technical equipment required for teleworking (technical devices, WLAN, etc.), the employee must inform the employer immediately and, if possible, work to rectify the fault quickly to contribute

i.e. The other expenses for necessary expenses are dem Employee not reimbursed.

7) Handling of data and confidentiality obligation

a. All operational data, information and documents to which the employee has access from the home office remain exclusively within the sovereignty of the employer. The employee is prohibited from providing operational data, information or documents - in particular personal and otherwise confidential data pass them on to third parties, allow third parties to gain knowledge of them (e.g. by viewing them on the screen or on printouts), save them on their own storage media, copy them without authorization or use them for purposes other than business purposes.

- b. The employee must ensure that any printouts containing confidential information (e.g. personal data) are securely destroyed when they are no longer needed (document shredder).
- c. All disruptions or abnormalities in the use of EDP must be reported immediately report to the service provider.
- i.e. The private use of the company device provided for the home office, HP VICTUS, is not permitted.
- e. The employer is entitled at any time to demand that the employee hand over all operational data, documents and files, including all copies; if passwords or other keys are required to access operational data, these must also be provided. The employee cannot assert any right of retention against this.

8) Security Measures

- a. If possible, a room that can be locked should be used as a home office. The device used by the employee must be kept safe when leaving the workplace or during breaks so that unauthorized third parties cannot access the information (lock the computer, shut down, close the windows ...). This also applies to documents (locking the room to prevent access to documents, lockable cupboard). The employee is not entitled to make the work equipment made available to third parties / to allow third parties to work with it.

9) Other rights and obligations

- a. Otherwise, all rights and obligations from the service contract between the parties dated April 5, 2023 apply unless they are modified by this agreement. This applies in particular to the remuneration for services rendered in the home office be provided.

10) Termination

- a. The employer reserves the right to temporarily assign the employee a location of the employer as a workplace, either in whole or in part (e.g. only individual days). The legitimate interests of the employee must be taken into account.
- b. The agreed work in the home office can be carried out by both sides if the employment relationship continues, subject to a two-day notice notice period to be set. For important reasons, in particular violations of this agreement, this agreement can be terminated at any time without notice.

- c. If the employee's entitlement to use the home office or the employment relationship ends, or if the employee is irrevocably released from the obligation to

If the employee is released from work performance, the employee must immediately return all company work equipment and access media (e.g. chip cards, transponders), data carriers and files (including copies) to the employer without being asked. If passwords or other keys are required to access operational data, these must also be handed over.

- i.e. The employee must also accept the collection of all work equipment provided by the employer after a reasonable notice period by persons commissioned by the employer.

11) Final Provisions

- a. All provisions of the service contract dated April 5th, 2023 plus any applicable additional agreements remain unchanged, unless otherwise agreed in the present home office agreement.

After the end of the present home office agreement, all provisions of the service contract dated April 5th, 2023 (plus any applicable additional agreements) automatically come into force again, unless they have remained unchanged anyway.

- b. Changes and additions to this contract must be made in writing to be valid. There are no verbal or written ancillary agreements.
- c. Should a provision of this agreement be or become invalid, the validity of the remaining provisions shall not be affected. In such a case, the employer and the employee undertake to replace the ineffective provision of this agreement with an effective provision that comes as close as possible to the economic result. This also applies to gaps that are not intended.

....., at the employee

employer